

WHITE

Cautionary TALES

TODD WHITE

In the new collection from Todd White, nothing is quite what it seems. Native American warriors are disguised as suited businessman, fashionable models are spray can-wielding graffiti artists, and the femme fatale is more fatale than femme...

SUITED FOR WAR

Embellished Canvas on Board Edition of 135 • 26" x 26" • £1,595

A cautionary tale of hidden realities...

"My travels have taken me to meetings with some really high profile businessmen. They often talk about themselves in meetings, courts and negotiations in the kind of language that sounds as if they've gone to war. In a way I guess they have: the strategy, the commitment, the flanking and the battle. I combined the American Indian warrior in full war paint face with the modern businessman and loved the way this all came together and the final result."

WHITE

Todd White is one of those people who simply seem to have it all; looks, charm, wit, talent... and a distinctive style and down to earth personality that have won him an international reputation. Over in the States he is a household name, and he also has a large and devoted army of admirers in the UK, with celebrity collectors including P Diddy, Sharon Stone, Jimmy White, Catherine Zeta Jones, Vin Diesel, Sylvester Stallone, Abbey Clancy, David Dunn and the late Hugh Hefner. He is the artist of choice for the world's most high profile showbiz events including the GRAMMY® Awards and the Warner Bros Wizard of Oz 70th anniversary celebration, and was honoured with the Diana Princess of Wales award Gold Medal for services to the Diana Awards charity.

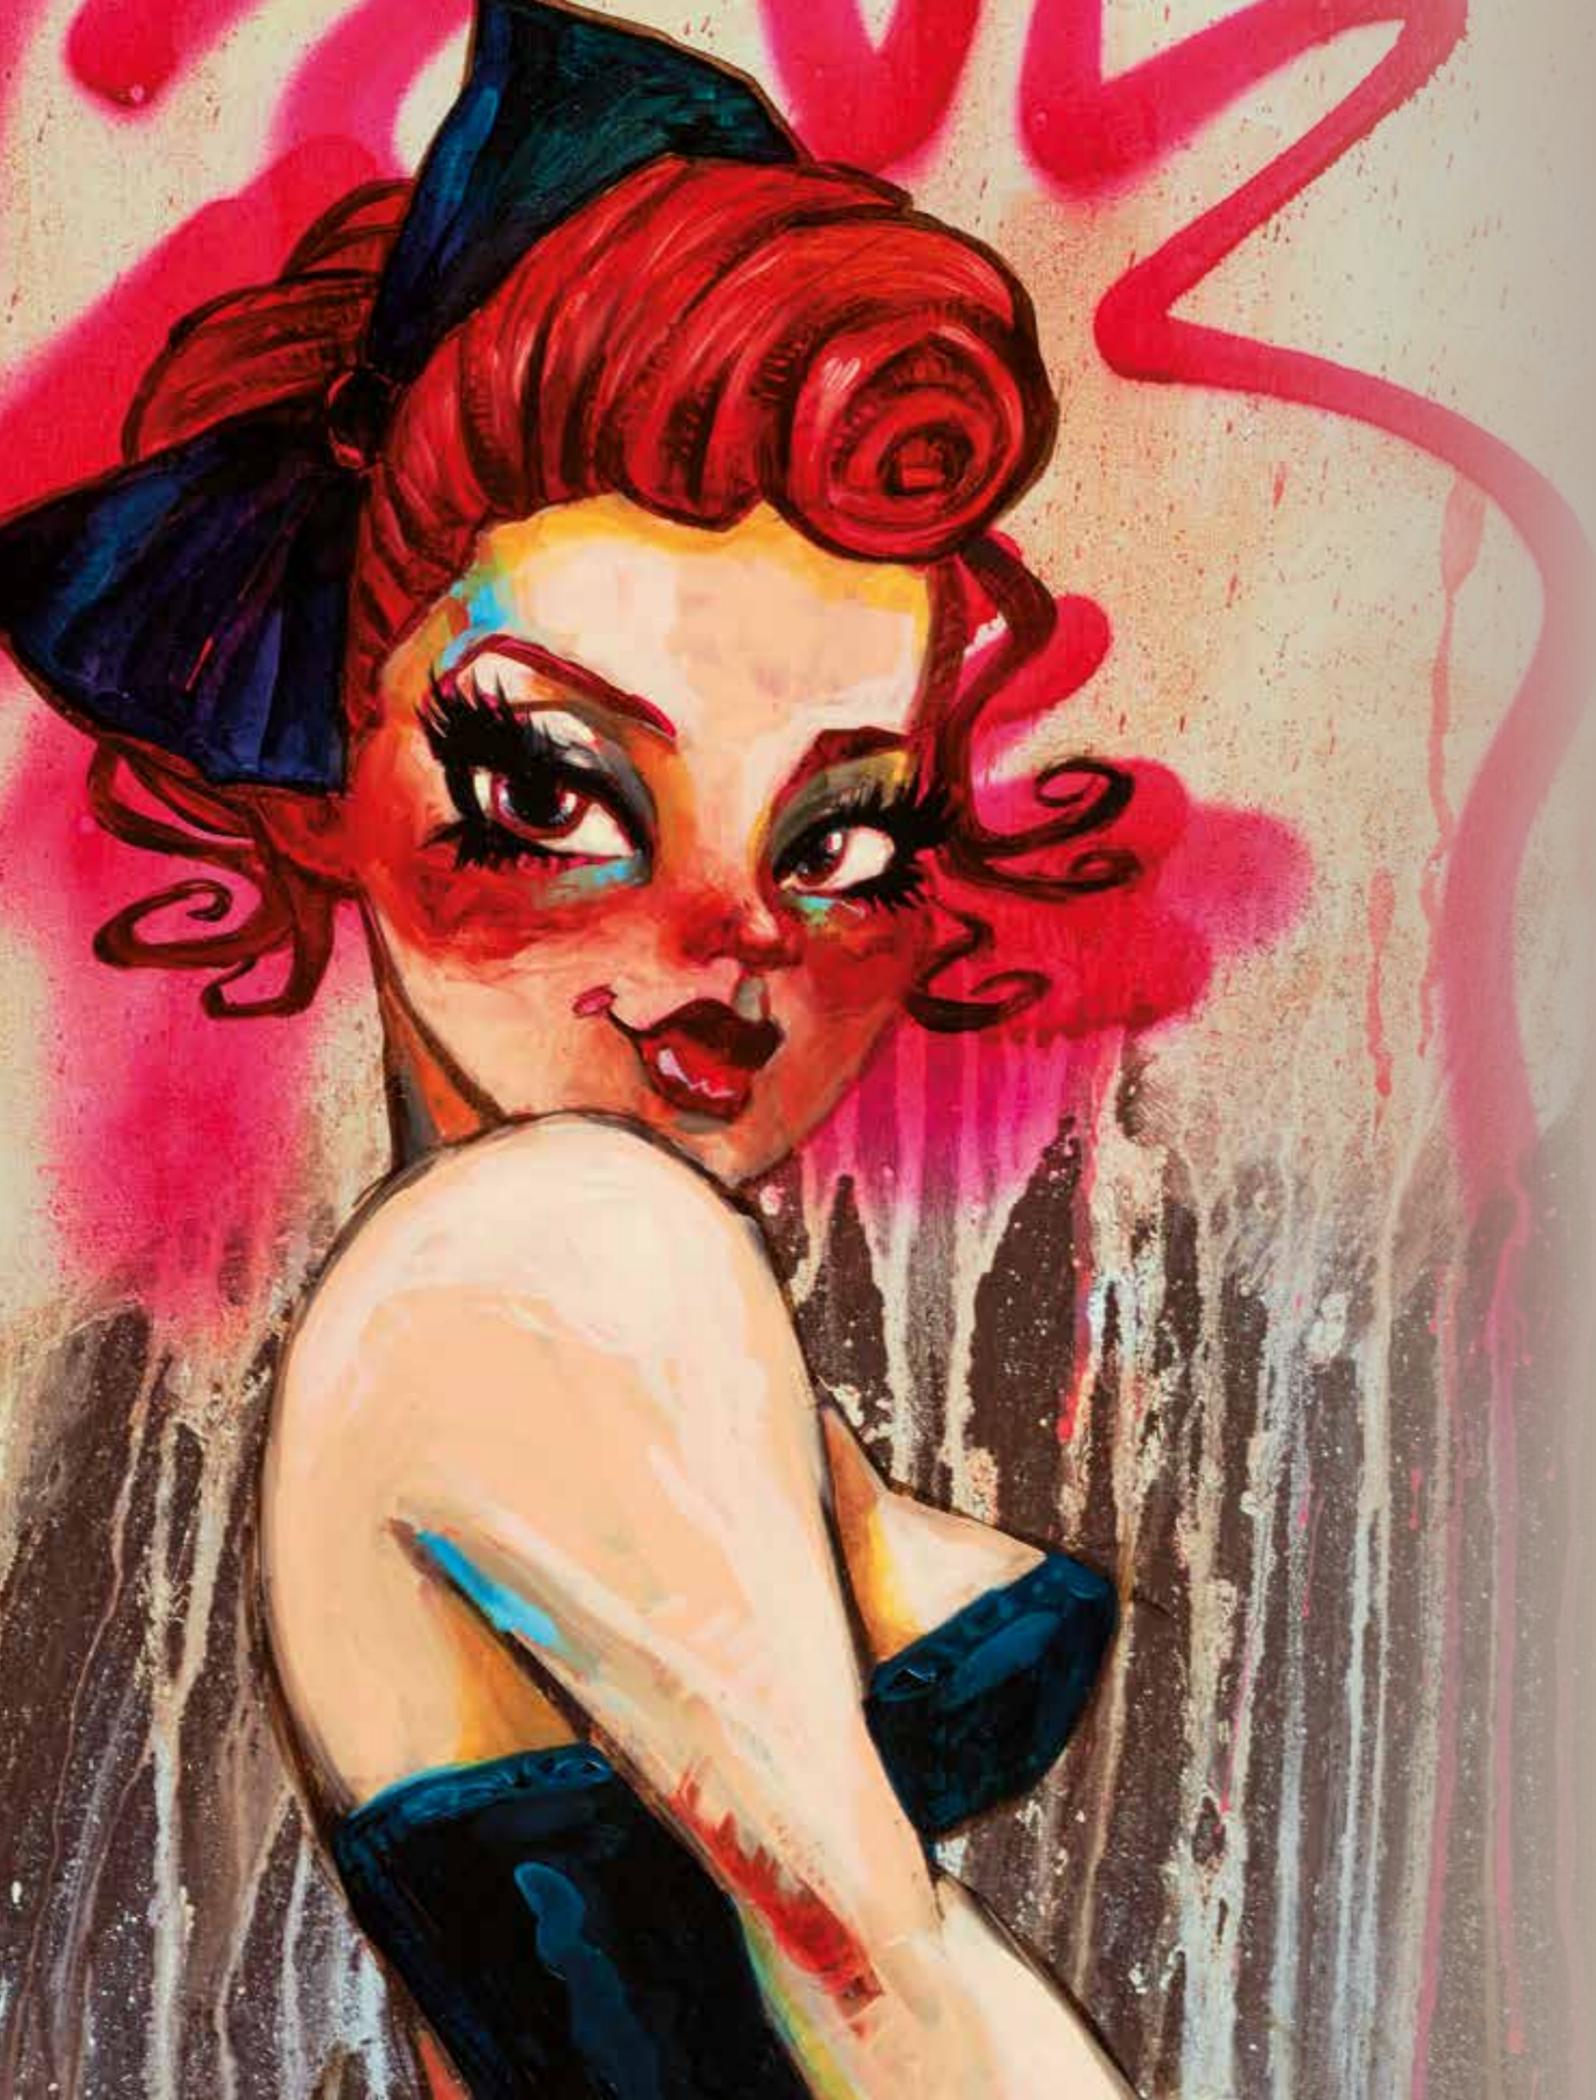

VENICE

Embellished Canvas on Board Edition of 100 • 12" x 23" • £995

A cautionary tale of the unexpected...

"This piece is inspired and named after Venice Beach – a place that is mostly dirty and disgusting with only spots of beauty, but it's the spot of beauty we remember the most. It's a creative hub and a popular spot for fashion photography. I wanted to use this piece to put something beautiful in a setting that is just a mess. Over the 28 years I lived in LA I saw plenty of photo shoots and, as a creative hub, Venice Beach was often favoured by fashion photographers. One of my friends was shooting here when the Model grabbed a can of spray paint and hits the walls of this building. The director freaked out, but she was as cool as the other side of the pillow. She just dropped the can like it was scripted and kept posing without missing a beat. I did admire her drive."

Considering the breadth of his success and the adulation that follows him wherever he goes, Todd has remained remarkably self-deprecating, never taking his collectors for granted saying:

“ I am both honoured and flattered to meet everyone who has made a connection with my work. ”

TAINTED LOVE

Embellished Canvas on Board Edition of 135 • 13" x 29" • £1,395

A cautionary tale of desire...

"Men are traditionally perceived as the predator, but in this case the script is flipped. The warning is right in front of you, in ink on flesh. Our girl giving us the "shhhhh don't tell" while the guy below who is introducing himself, he thinks he's going to have his way as he's not yet realized he is on top of the bones of men before him. It's a metaphor for a powerful woman who knows what she wants and knows how to get it and takes no prisoners."

